Objection

I have objected once already to this proposal and nothing at all has changed in my opinion. I understand there has been a new submission which I have looked through. I am not sure what the new challenges are. There is no new evidence or justification of the need for additional construction recycling in West Sussex. There is no further substantiated evidence that there is a shortfall of clay in Surrey, no specific customers named who want this clay and a ridiculous comparison made with Ibstock Swanage. There's a half-hearted attempt to justify impact on ecology and water neutrality, they are clutching at straws in a desparate attempt at justification. But what irritates me beyond compare is their attempt to suggest that any objection outside the consultation area should not count and that they have tried to find out the home addresses of objectors. I find this outrageously hypocritical. They are clueless as they don't live here themselves. They have absolutely no idea of the impact of this proposal on the surrounding area, inhabitants and wildlife. They have no idea how many people walk here from outside the local area. I object to their proposal as these landowners reside outside the consultation area.
