This site has remained unrestored far too long, when the National Planning Policy Framework states that restoration and aftercare is required "at the earliest opportunity"; it should be restored at the earliest opportunity rather than allow any further activity there to start again. The NPPF also advises that social, economic and sustainable considerations should be taken into account; this site has not proved to be viable, and with WSCC having issued their strategy on Climate change, I cannot see justification for any extension of permission. Residents nearby and in Adversane Lane have gained from the drill being removed and the lack of HGV traffic; that should continue, as they had suffered from increased noise, light and disruption from the site whilst it was active.
